All tenderers must provide a declaration on honour (Annex E), signed, and dated by their authorized representative, stating that they are not in one of the situations of exclusion listed. Annex E is part of the tender submission form to be included in administrative offer.

In case of subcontracting, identified subcontractors whose estimated share of the contract is above 40 % of the maximum ceiling for each service must provide a declaration on honour signed by their authorized representative. These declarations should also be included in the tender.

Verification of selection criteria and evidence

The purpose of the selection criteria is to determine whether the tenderer has the capacity to implement the contract. Aspects of this capacity include the legal and regulatory capacity (where relevant), the economic and financial capacity, and the technical and professional capacity.

Each selection criterion consists of three elements: (i) the criterion itself, (ii) a minimum level/minimum requirement and (iii) the supporting documents. The selection criteria are not scored by the Contracting Authority. They are subject to a pass or fail assessment.

Evidence: The tenderer must provide financial statements of the last two (2) years of the tenderer and each member of the consortium of tenderers if applicable.

Quality Award Criteria

Technical and professional capacity criteria

Award criteria are related to the tenderer's state of art and the tender. The criteria include minimum thresholds that each tender should score per criterion and in total to be considered acceptable.

The team delivering the service should include, as a minimum, the profiles listed below. If a project team member leaves the project during the implementation period, the contractors must ensure a replacement in due course by another person with equivalent experience and expertise.

Tenderers (in case of a joint tender the combined capacity of all members of the group and identified subcontractors) must comply with the criteria listed below.

a) Criteria relating to the tenderer (s) delivering the service:

The tenderer has experience in implementing advertising and promotion projects for the agrifood sector.

The tenderer has experience in implementing advertising and promotion projects for organic products.

Evidence: For all profiles listed in the above-mentioned criteria, the tenderer shall complete the relevant section of Submission Form (Annex C).

The tenderers must note that a statement alone, confirming that it understands the objectives of the contract and the work to be carried out, or a repetition of the tender specifications will not be considered as sufficient and will lead to a negative assessment and a major reduction of points under the respective criterion. If certain essential points of these specifications are not expressly covered by the tender, the Contracting Authority may decide to give a zero mark for the relevant quality award criteria.

The contract will be awarded based on the most economically advantageous offer, according to the 'best price-quality ratio' award method. The quality of the tender will be evaluated based on the below described criteria. The maximum total quality score is 100 points.

Award criterion 1: Technical and professional capacity (YES/NO)

This criterion assesses the capacity of tenderer to undertake the contract and concern the verification of criteria a) and b). If evidence requested do not meet the criteria or they are considered inadequate according to the judgement of the Committee the tender in concern will not pass to the next evaluation stage.

Award criterion 2: Quality of the proposed methodology (40 points – minimum score 50%)

This criterion will assess the quality and the efficiency of the proposed methodology taking into the account the description of the services as well as the capacity of the tenderer. This will consider approaches and methods proposed to ensure smooth organization and management of the campaign and each activity covering all related aspects. Completeness is an element of this criterion. Details should be provided as part of the technical offer.

Award criterion 3: Organization of the work and resources, quality assurance (20 points – minimum score 50%)

This criterion will assess how the different economic operators (joint tenders, incl. subcontractors, if applicable) and the project team share responsibilities, roles, time, and resources globally and for each identified task, and the back-up systems in order to be effective. This criterion will also assess the quality assurance mechanisms used to ensure timeliness, quality of the deliverables, the language Excellency and flexibility. Completeness is an element of this criterion. The criterion will also assess the approaches/methods proposed for ensuring efficient coordination between and with various parties involved (Contracting Authority and stakeholders, competent national and European authorities etc). Details should be provided as part of the technical tender.

Award Criterion 4: Efficiency and effectiveness of the actions (40 points – minimum score 50%)

This criterion will assess the methods, tools and indicators which will be used to measure the efficiency and the effectiveness of the actions carried out within the scope of the services. Quality, quantity, and cost effectiveness shall be considered in the proposed measurement indicators. Details should be provided as part of the technical offer.

Price and Award Method

Only the tenders that have reached the technical quality thresholds announced for the quality award criteria will be subject to best price-quality assessment.

Ranking of tenders

The tender with the lowest price will be awarded 100 points. The other tenders will be awarded points based on the following formula:

Points = (lowest price/price of the bid in question) x 100

Calculation of the most economically advantageous tender on the basis of the best price/quality method:

In order to determine the most economically advantageous tender for the award of the contracts, a quality/price ratio of 80/20 will be applied to each tender in the following way:

Score for tender X = Lowest Price/Price for tender x 20% + total quality score (out of 100) for all quality award criteria of tender x 80%.

The Committee will draw up an Evaluation Protocol with the results of the procedure that will be submitted to the Board of Directors for final approval.

Upon completion of the evaluation stages, the Commission will prepare a tender results report which will be forwarded to the Contracting Authorities and notified to the participants.

Informing the candidates / tenderers

In case of annulment of the procedure the Contracting Authorities will inform in written all the participants, from the date of annulment, both the ceasing of the obligations of the participants, created by submitting tenders, as well as the reason of the annulment.

Confidentiality

The Contracting Authorities shall not disclose the information provided by the economic operators indicated by them as confidential, including technical or commercial secrets and the confidential elements of the tenders.

Intellectual property rights

The ownership of the results and of all deliverables produced in the context of the contact is of the Contracting Authorities.

The service contract (ANNEX I) with the highest ranked tenderer will be drawn in conformity to the Grant Agreement.

ANNEX A- Description of Contract

Objectives

EUOrganic, aims to address the growing erosion of society's engagement with the food that it produces and consumes and the correlated need to strengthen this engagement on a more sustainable way. The market analysis in the three markets have framed the context clearly and the following assumptions can be extracted:

- Domestic organic production is on the rise however they concern specific crops oriented for exports and only small part is directed to their internal markets.
- All markets have high dependency on imports of high-quality processed food including organic products.
- Still spending on organic products and per capita consumption is low.
- Consumers behaviour toward organic is changing; perception on the environmental, social, and economic benefits associated with producing and consuming organic food is strengthen but still in inadequate.
- EU organic logo and system has low awareness level and among organic consumers.
- Markets are depending heavily on EU suppliers.
- Organized retailing is growing fast and supply of organic products has become part of the innovating strategies to attract consumers' interest
- Polish exports of processed food and agro based products are gaining shares in the three markets.
- Romanian exports of processed food and agro based products are losing shares in UAE and Egypt but gain share in Serbia.

Based on the above the EUOrganic objectives are:

- To improve competitiveness of the organic products from Romania and Poland in the three markets
- To increase the awareness and recognition of organic products from Romania and Poland in the three markets

Both objectives are in full compliance with the general and specific objectives (b) and (c) of the Reg (EC) 1144/2014.

The objective is SMART as it has identified the SPECIFIC challenges to tackle and opportunities to build on. Furthermore, it has specified the intervention area prioritizing key target group. The objective is MEASURABLE as it will result a) to an increase by 15% of the recognition rate of the EU organic logo in each market and b) to the establishment a continuous flow of organic exports from Poland and Romania to the three markets. These are ACHIEVABLE goals; both organizations are pioneers in the organic movement in Poland and Romania and significant present in European level; their proven track on networking and promoting the organic concept is undeniable. They have undertaken initiatives and activities of the same calibre in the past and have contributed to the growth achieved until today. With the EUOrganic initiative Bio-Romania and Ekologia acknowledge that the objective and expected results can be achieved. The objective is also REALISTIC since it is obvious that the moment is now; Covid 19 outbreak impact gas definitely affected organic market; consumers in the three markets as elsewhere around the globe are more concerned, but organic consumption is low thus making it vulnerable. Organic movement may lose recognition, sales and affiliates (producers, traders, end users). Increasing public awareness will stimulate demand and increase consumption. Finally, the objective is TIME BOUNDED: It sets milestones and foresees results to be achieved in annual base. It has a defined size of the key target group and supplementary groups that will facilitate the realization of the objective that will be approached in activity level and finally set the bounds for the general objective to be achieved by the end of the project.

The project's objective is in line with the general objective of Reg (EU) 1144/2014 as it is supporting the competitiveness of the organic sector in all member states. It is in full compliance with Regulation's specific objectives (b) and (c) and it has been conceptualized based on the general and specific objectives of the call as it compatible with Regulation's expected results and impact.

It is also in full aligned with the Organic Action Plan of the European Commission and will contribute to its goals. In specific it is promoting organic farming and the EU logo (priority 1.1 Promoting organic farming and the EU logo) via specialized activities (priorities 1.2 Promoting organic canteens and increasing the use of green public procurement and priority) engaging the private sector in the common goal (priority 1.6 The contribution of the private sector). Finally the project is in line with priority 2.1 (encouraging conversion, investment and exchange of best practices) and 2.4 (Reinforcing local and small-volume processing and fostering short trade circuit).

Strategy

Modern agriculture is characterized by enormous productivity and efficiency, but often at the expense of the environment and the health of consumers. Due to the growing awareness, people are more and more willing or each for organic products. However, organic production is not only about healthier and safer food. Organic farming is also a form of environmental protection and responsible management of natural resources. Water, soil, biodiversity, and landscape are just some of the elements of the environment that are constantly changing due to agricultural activities. In conventional agriculture, these activities often contribute to environmental degradation with serious consequences.

There are specific constraints limiting the development of the organic food demand and consumption in the three markets, but a general characteristic is the low or inadequate public awareness and lack of knowledge about the role and importance of organic production and food over the past years. Given that the level of sustainability concerns is correlated and affects the intensity of organic consumption, the EUOrganic will highlight the environmental, social, and economic benefits associated with the EU organic products and with consuming them. In this respect, the project intends to promote the sustainable approach, emphasizing that organic farming can provide multilayer positive externalities.

In general, as was presented in the market analysis there is growing positive trend towards organic fuelled by increasing supply; in UAE organized retailers and specialized organic retailers are catering a market that demands better food; in Egypt the market is niche but middle- and upper-class consumers are demands more high-end organic products that cannot be offered by domestic production. Finally, in Serbia again retailers and specialized organic retailers are in need for more products as improving purchasing power and demand for high end foodstuffs are increasing.

Therefore, the project will try to tackle this challenged targeting:

-Urban consumers 24-55 years' old men and women of medium and upper income via extensive publicity (social media, print, online advertising, and publications) and special tailored activities (POS promotion). 25 million consumers are in the age bracket in the three markets and more than 10 million are at the medium and upper income level thus exist a significant consumer base to be approached.

-Importers / distributors / retailers / specialized organic retailers along with food service sector that are or want to be pro – organic, form another target group of the EUOrganic. The main mechanisms will be stands at trade fairs, events, and study trips to Europe in order to bring along organic supply and demand. It is estimated that about 1 million professionals and multipliers will be approached through international trade fairs and more than 600 at seminars, B2B workshops, and trainings.

-Finally, multipliers (journalists, chefs, experts, and influencers) are the last but not least important target group. The EUOrganic will address to them via the events WP and a great effort will be put for their participation /engagement during implementation of the other activities, enforcing our communication strategy and publicity especially via dedicated promotional videos dedicated to increasing awareness and stimulate demand.

The UNION MESSAGE is the EUOrganic: European Organics for a better future! The “ENJOY IT’S FROM EUROPE” signature will supplement Union’s message. The communication concept put on the spot the organic farming logo; the latter will be visible and accompanying every material produced. In addition, the communication arsenal provided by European Commission on organic farming is a crucial asset.
